Who Put It There?

These six things are online about a student named Justin. Decide who put each one there. Every card on this sheet is made up.

How do you earn points? Each card is worth 1 point, and the last question is worth 1 point. You earn a card's point when you circle the right answer and your box fits it.

1. Read each card.
2. Circle who put it online.
3. In the box, write the fact that decided it.
4. Answer the last question. Then check your answers with a partner.

How do you decide?

You put it there: Justin posted it. Someone who knows you put it there: a friend, relative or neighbor posted it. An organization published it: a school or news site posted it. A company recorded it quietly: an app kept a record.

Here are the six cards.

Card 1

Justin posted a photo of his new bike and wrote the caption himself.

Circle one: You put it there Someone who knows you put it there An organization published it A company recorded it quietly

Card 2

Justin's cousin posted a video from a birthday party and tagged Justin in it.

Circle one: You put it there Someone who knows you put it there An organization published it A company recorded it quietly

Card 3

The Oakdale High website lists Justin on the winners page for the art contest.

Circle one: You put it there Someone who knows you put it there An organization published it A company recorded it quietly

Card 4

A shopping app keeps a list of every item Justin has looked at. He has never posted anything on it.

Circle one: You put it there Someone who knows you put it there An organization published it A company recorded it quietly

Card 5

The local news website published a story about the food drive and quoted Justin by name.

Circle one: You put it there Someone who knows you put it there An organization published it A company recorded it quietly

Card 6

A neighbor posted photos of the street after a storm. Justin is standing on his porch in one of them.

Circle one: You put it there Someone who knows you put it there An organization published it A company recorded it quietly

Last question. How many of the six cards did Justin post himself, and what does that show about a digital footprint? Write 1-2 sentences.
